Trial Court Case #3KN-06-844 CI

MOTION TO COMPEL SETTLEMENT DISCUSSION

COMES NOW Pro Se Appellant, DAVID HAEG, in the above referenced case and hereby moves this Supreme Court to compel a settlement discussion.

On 7/9/07 pro se appellant David Haeg called attorney Brent Cole to arrange a discussion for settlement. Haeg suggested he and his wife meet with Cole and his wife. Cole was opposed to his wife being present but agreed to meet by himself with Haeg and Haeg's wife Jackie on 7/11/07 at Cole's office in Anchorage. Haeg and Jackie made arrangements to drive to Anchorage to meet with Cole. Cole then sent the enclosed letter (attached) – saying Haeg's suggestion that Cole's wife attend was a threat – even when Haeg agreed she did not need to attend.

Cole then claims any attempt to contact him, other then in writing, will be forwarded to the appropriate law enforcement authority – as if the conversation was not about an attempt to settle this as it seems Appellate Rule 221 allows and even requires if one of the parties is not appearing without attorney representation.

Haeg is the party without attorney representation, this case is of grave importance to his family, and he and Jackie would like an opportunity to possibly settle this case before this Supreme Court must attempt to do so.

To help this court to understand the gravity of the situation Haeg is including as an appendix a copy of a motion recently filed with the Alaska Court of Appeals.

This motion is supported by the included appendix and affidavit of appellant.
